

STOP PULLING THE WAGON

STOPPULLINGTHEWAGON.COM

I once heard that our society is like a wagon. Some pull the wagon and some ride in the wagon. Some of those who ride, need to ride, and that's okay. Others are riding because they are lazy and not willing to pull.

As the number riding increases, and the number pulling decreases, the burden in the wagon grows. At some point the burden will be so great that those pulling will no longer be able, or will become unwilling to pull it along and the wagon will come to a stop.

Our government keeps piling more and more in the wagon they want me to pull. I'm tired of pulling. Are you?
