

Is Barack Obama Smarter Than Osama Bin Laden?

Is BARACK OBAMA SMARTER THE OSAMA BIN LADEN?

CONSIDER THE FOLLOWING:

One of Osama Bin Laden's main goals, when he caused planes to be flown into the Twin Towers of the World Trade Center, was to damage the U.S. economy.

Osama Bin Laden's attack killed more than 3,000 people, yet, within a year after the attack the U.S. economy was in basically full recovery mode.

Barack Obama is regarded by both his supporters and detractors as a "smart" person.

Barack Obama gave himself a "B+" for his performance in his first year of office. A "B+" equates to an 85%, or better, achievement of goals. He is therefore telling us he is achieving the goals he laid out for himself.

After one year of the Obama Administration the U.S. economy is in a state of wreckage instead of on the road to recovery . We must assume that it was Barack Obama's goal to wreck the U.S. economy based on his own assessment of his performance (B+). And, as a "smart" person, he has to know that the economic plans he supports will only continue to make the economy worse. Or, are we to believe that a really "smart" person could create such economic chaos without a specific plan?

Osama Bin Laden partially achieved his goal. Maybe we would give him a grade of "C" on goal achievement.

Both Osama Bin Laden and Barack Obama have damaged our economy though (hopefully) for different reasons.

Osama Bin Laden is apparently hiding in a cave somewhere in the mountains of Waziristan on a diet of goat meat and rutabega stew.

Barack Obama is living in the White House and flying around the world in Air Force One. He has a staff of hundreds to cater to his every whim including virtually any kind of food or entertainment he desires.

So, who is smarter? Barack Obama or Osama Bin Laden?
