

The Borg Initiative - A "Progressive" Collective

Captain Jean-Luc Picard/Locutus Borg

Being old enough to remember "Star Trek - The Next Generation" series I am finding similarities between the "New" Progressive Political movement and the Borg 'Collective'.

The Borg were major players in some Twenty One episodes total but I remember them first in Season Two - Episode 16 - titled: "Q Who?"

The Borg are "beings" with both Organic and Cybernetic Implants that function as a "One Mind Collective" of Drones who are incapable of independent thought and function more as a single purpose "Hive" controlled by one central entity.

Hmmmm.

Just the other day I heard Speaker of the House of Representatives, Nancy Pelosi inform Democratic members of the "House" that they were to vote as a "Team" and voting with the Republicans was not allowed.

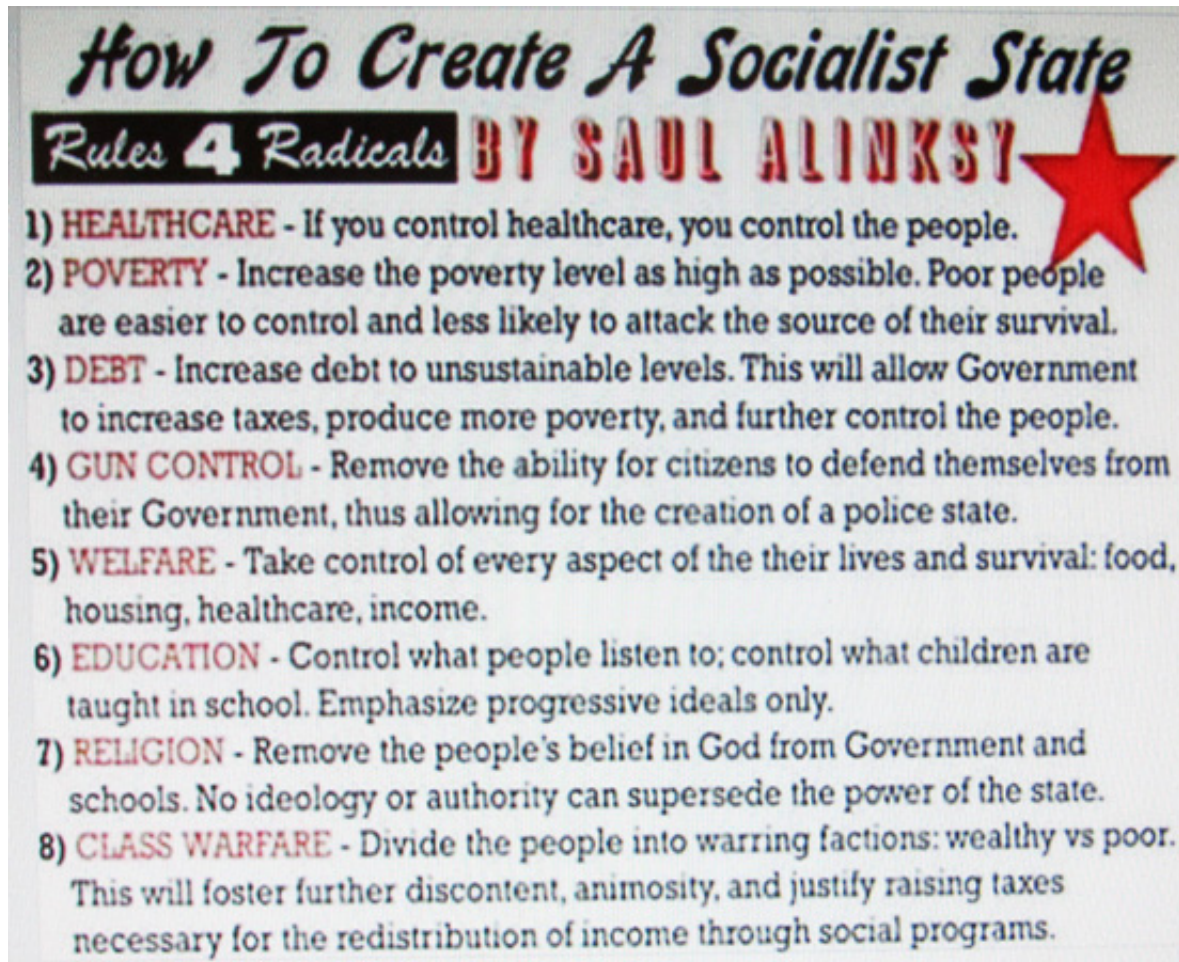

Later, Democratic Freshman Congresswoman Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez told fellow Democrats that any of them caught voting with the Republicans would go on a "List" that would be used against them at the next election.

I don't know about you but this sounds a lot like the Borg to me. No independent thought allowed. No independent action allowed. All are just "Drones" subject to the direction of "Central Command".

It gives me the feeling that the Progressive Left plans to convert all of us into "Borg Drones" trained to obey while they Create a Socialist State. Maybe like the one in Venezuela or Cuba?

Below is a checklist for creating a Socialist State. Please tell me a single one of these items that the "Progressive Left" does not have on its agenda and now demands total compliance to from the

I can even add a couple or more items to this list. Just one example: the "Green New Deal".

Copied from "The Federalist" - January 15, 2018

Are you ready for your "Cybernetic Implants"

Bob Bandy

Star Trek the Next Generation is available on NetFlix and from other sources.